DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed May 19, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Aoshima et al (US 6,631,014) does not teach or suggest the recited rib as claimed by applicant. Upon further review, the Examiner respectfully disagrees. A rib is defined as "A long, narrow, usually arched member projecting from the surface of a structure" The American Heritage® Dictionary of the English Language, Fourth Edition. Copyright © 2000 by Houghton Mifflin Company. It is inherent for the rib to be held within the frame of Aoshima, as the frame is where the control board 14 is secured. The circuit board 15 is attached to the scanning unit 3, which is attached to the guide shaft 4 that is attached to the body frame 1. See Col 4 Lines 3-19; 49-62. Fig 2 shows in clear detail the "rib" device as shown by Examiner.

With respect to Claim 12, the applicant stated the Examiner failed to address the wherein clause of Claim 12. Upon further review, the Examiner provides more clarification by pointing the applicant's attention to Col 4 Lines 10-45.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 7-8,10,12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Aoshima et al (US 6.631,014).

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Considering claim 7, which is representative of claim 12, Aoshima discloses an image reading apparatus comprising: a scanning member 3, movable along an original mounting table, that includes a reading element for reading an original image (Fig 1); a frame member 1 having a rib housing said scanning member; a control board 14,15 for controlling said scanning member; and an interface connector (Fig 1) connected to a signal line of an external apparatus, and mounted on a side of said control board 14,15 , wherein said control board 15,15 is secured to said frame member 1 at least one side on which said interface connector is not mounted (Col 1 Lines 6-12), and wherein said control board 14,15 is secured to said rib of said frame member (Fig 2; Col 4 Lines 46-54).

Regarding claim 8, which is representative of claim 13, Aoshima teaches further comprising a conductive board cover covering said control board (Col 5 Lines 58-Col 6 Lines 5).

Considering claim 10, Aoshima teaches wherein at least one side of said control board, which is not secured to said rib, is secured by a screw to said frame member (Fig 1; Col 4 Lines 49-62).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
